

VELLAI MOZHI : FRANKLY SPEAKING

AN INDIAN TRANS WOMAN'S LIFE JOURNEY

APRIL 18, 2024

5:30 - 7:30 PM

WRITTEN AND PERFORMED BY BY A. REVATHI

Vellai Mozhi - Frankly Speaking is a powerful first-person account of a hijra-thirunangai-transfeminine experience in southern India. A. Revathi enacts her life as a Tamil trans woman, stringing stories about finding community, navigating family relationships, encountering violence, building solidarities, finding and losing love, and discovering the joys of writing and performing.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY | 485 BROADWAY | LOWER LECTURE HALL

MADE POSSIBLE BY A GRANT FROM THE ELSON FAMILY ARTS INITIATIVE

Harvard University
Faculty of Arts and Sciences
Department of South Asian Studies

